The check list for Middlebury is printed as a supplement to the town edition of this week's REGISTER. It shows 812 names, a larger number of voters than it was supposed the town contained. But in all probability many will be stricken off at the meeting of the board of civil authority on the 21st for correcting the list.

The new local base ball club is fully organized and is called the "Star." The members and positions are: George McCue, Jr., captain and catcher; Harry A. Fletcher, pitcher; Will Ellis, short stop; George Dickinson, first base; Charles Collins, Jr., second base; R. M. Langworthy, third base; Ernest Wright, right field; John Donahue, Jr., center field; and Ed. Fuller, left field.

Mr. H. C. Tennant and family left town on Tuesday and will go to Holyoke, Mass., after a brief stay in Burlington. The Wainwright house, corner of Washington and High streets, which they have had, will, it is understood, be occupied by Prof. Eaton the coming year.

A new and dangerous counterfeit of the series of 1882 is announced. The denomination is a five dollar note, with a bust of Garfield at the left end of its face. The spurious note purports to be an issue of Central National bank of Norwalk, Ct. Its charter number is wrong; so also is the motto in the pink seal. In fact, this bank never issued a note of the series of 1882; hence these figures alone will be sufficient detection.

There was a pleasant musical entertainment at the Addison House parlors Wednesday evening. First on the programme was a piano duet by Prof. Orth and Miss Orth; then a quartette composed of Mrs. Pitts and Miss Worthington, Messrs. Munroe and Graham, sang, and Miss Hattie Chapman played a selection from Liszt. Elegant refreshments were served, after which Prof. Orth gave a polonaise by Liszt and Miss Chapman and Prof. Orth a piano duet. There were present, besides the guests of the hotel, many townspeople. Miss Worthington is from the West, is a pupil of Prof. Orth and plays the organ at the Congregational church during Mrs. Miner's absence.

The government is about to issue a new postal card, the design of which is thus described: A head of Jefferson occupies a central place on the upper third of the card. Over this head, in light letters, are the words "United States." In panels, supported by scroll-work at the left and right, are the words "postal-card," in distinct letters. Under the head are the words, "one cent," and beneath the border line inclosing the designation of value is the line, "nothing but the address to be on this side."

The design is graceful and light, and its advantage over the old one is that the idea of putting the stamp off at one side and the designation of the article at the opposite side is abandoned to secure an inclusive design with the strongest feature of it in the center. The new card may also be printed in black ink on white paper. There is a large stock of the old cards on hand and so the new ones are not likely to come into use for several weeks.

The last hearing on a case that has caused some talk was had at the office of A. P. Tupper, Esq., Wednesday afternoon. On the 20th of July Johnny Race of East Middlebury was arraigned before Justice H. D. Maynard on the charge of having been intoxicated on the evening of July 23, pleaded guilty and disclosed that he had drunk nothing to cause intoxication except champagne cider which he procured at Snell's billiard rooms in this village and which was furnished, in the absence of the proprietor, by Bert Sampson. On the 9th inst. Sampson was arraigned before Justice Maynard for selling. It then appeared from the testimony for the defense that Race was drunk in the morning before he went into Snell's place. At Wednesday's hearing it was further shown that Race was drunk on the forenoon of July 23; that he did not go into the billiard saloon till the afternoon; that on the way home, whither he rode with one Gonyea, he drank from a bottle; that he told one Michael Her that he had been drinking alcohol and that he was drunk while on the way home. The respondent, Sampson, was discharged. Race has left for parts unknown.

A recent issue of the St. Albans Messenger had this item: "The case of the Middlebury bank vs. Albert Sowles, which has been pending for some time before Judge Taft, has just been settled by a decision sustaining the national bank of Middlebury in its efforts to have Albert Sowles put through insolvency. It will be remembered that the late Geo. W. Foster filed a petition to have Mr. Sowles declared insolvent, and when the matter went to the County court that tribunal decided, pro forma, that Mr. Foster's claim was not of such a character as to warrant the petition in insolvency."

The Supreme court thought differently and sent the case back to be heard on its merits; and the Middlebury bank, which in the meantime stepped into the case, has since been pressing the matter in hearings before Judge Taft. It is understood that the Middlebury bank was at one time offered 30 per cent in settlement of its claim, but this was refused with a view, it is supposed, to realizing more than that out of the insolvency proceedings. Mr. Sowles was one of the signers of a joint note that was not paid. He did offer a percentage on condition of release from liability on account of the note, but the bank people did not see how he could be released and the other signers held; hence this proceeding. A meeting of Mr. Sowles' creditors has been called.

BOND BROS.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stronger than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial.

NOTICE.

It has come to our knowledge that certain of our patrons make a practice of removing portion of the cream from their milk before sending it to the creamery. This is a gross wrong to our other patrons, and besides it is a crime under the laws of the State which make it a crime to which heavy penalty is attached. The parties well known to us, and unless the practice entirely discontinued duty to our other patrons will demand that we make a public exposure and cause the law to be enforced.
